

PEOPLE INVESTMENT- a LEADERSHIP necessity

In bowls especially related to teams, we do not appreciate the value of everyone around us. Whether these are people in attendance, people we met elsewhere or people we read about. All these people have the capacity to add influence to our growth, our effort, our journey, our success, if only we soaked up their input, their treasures stored within for us to reap the golden benefit.

Everyone in attendance at a national Bowls camp who was not bowling was used as a support resource to the coach for the eventual benefit of the bowling squad. Their role was:

Observe squad bowlers body language.

Listen to squad bowlers' verbal language when they train as partners.

Watch player capacity / willingness to bend down, stay down, follow through.

Positivity – how signs were displayed from players to you.

Negativity – how signs were displayed from players to you.

That squad showed they had the capacity to orient their focus on other players priorities if shown the value of the focus.

Some statements learned from associating with others for our use in bowls.

I have used these in practical training programs to commence or review the day session.

- One crowded hour of glorious (winning) life is worth it all.
- Positive people are amazing.
- Confidence is contagious.
- Seeing is believing.
- TCUP – think correctly under pressure, not to be confused with HICCUP (hell I can't cope under pressure) a no no!
- Tune out for a second and second is where you come.
- Striving, never arriving.
- Laugh a lot.
- If you don't work hard enough, others make the choices for you.
- You don't have to be right, you don't have to be sure.
- Not to decide is to decide unfortunately.
