Facts and knowledge

Knowledge Delivery decision options

the head scenario- back of opposition first bowl and jack are same and the bowl is placed one bowl from the jack

There are ten options to consider on the right forehand FH as an example of the extent of options for players when seeing such a head.

In 2011 the squad attempted the 10 suggested FH options with 4 deliveries so that we had a sample of $40 \times 38 = 1520$ bowl deliveries to gauge the various option outcomes and apply to any one player.

Worth the while for coaches to host a decision making workshop with their teams simulating a contrived bowls head in the corner of the green and seeking the various options from these selected players.

And also for the coach to see the comparison to the skill audit of the team members sp as to question the connection, if any, between the calls of players in the workshop and the known skill rating for deliveries evidenced from the skill sessions beforehand.
