

Henselite coaching column- Lachlan Tighe
November 2013

Singles Serve -modified game

Two games between two players - about five ends per game - provide some variety in your training.

Game One - each bowler has two deliveries, as a minimum every end; however whoever wins the first end can now add another bowl for the next end;

If they then lose that end, they forfeit the extra bowl and both players are back to two deliveries for one of them to now get the chance to add another bowl by winning this next end; consecutive winning ends means you can add bowls to play with for that new end.

Game two - both players have a full set of four bowls, however a player only scores by winning the end to secure serve and then to win the next end to score points;

Losing that end means the other player has the serve and capacity to score on the next new end.

Henselite coaching column- Lachlan Tighe
November 2013

“Winning becomes you, in lawn bowls’ is available through NEW BOOK information on the home page at lachlantighebowls.com.